AMINOPHOS - 25 is a special purpose liquid fertilizer enriched with organic acids and amino acids, developed to promote flowering and root development in plants. Phosphorus is one of the macronutrients that plants need most. It is the building block of genes and chromosomes in plants. It takes part in germination and seed formation. It provides cell division and growth. It increases flowering and fruit set. It provides fringe root formation and development of roots in plants. As a structural element of enzymes in plants, it is involved in protein synthesis and carbohydrate metabolism.
